A Message from the President

National Chengchi University (NCCU) was founded in Nanjing in 1927, and was subsequently relocated to Taipei, Taiwan, in 1954. Throughout its challenging history, the university has always adhered to its Founding Principles: “Harmony, Independence, Balance and Excellence.” NCCU faculty and administrators have since been striving to improve the quality of both instruction and research not only to meet the needs of national development, but also to cultivate the leadership indispensable in moving Taiwan forward. Guided by a deep commitment to public services and (inter)national contributions, NCCU will continue to uphold its dedication to most advanced research, international bridge-building across languages and cultures, and constant renovation and reinvention in this brave new century.

Internationalization is at the core of NCCU's foundation. Our university aspires to be one of the world's leading higher educational institutions, creating global citizens at home and around the world. It is our earnest hope that students with international perspectives or interests in Sinology, Taiwanese cultures, and Asian studies from the four corners of the earth will come to join us here, at Wenshan, in the Green Valley of Taipei. The education — Fête mobile intellectuelle in the light of Hemingway — that you once receive here will provide you with unbound horizons as well as incessant inspirations all your lifetime.

Academics

Colleges

NCCU currently has 11 colleges with 34 departments and 47 postgraduate institutes, of which 35 offer doctoral programs. Additionally, NCCU offers 14 on-the-job master's programs, 5 distinguished international master's programs, and one international doctoral program.

College of Liberal Arts

- The recently established Graduate Institute of Library, Information and Archival Studies, along with the Graduate Institute of Religious Studies, and the Graduate Institutes of Taiwan History and Taiwanese Literature aim to enhance scholarly research and the spirit of humanities.
- The College of Liberal Arts promotes teacher and student exchanges through academic cooperation agreements with 51 outstanding international universities. Besides, the College of Liberal Arts is also known for its foreign student-friendly curriculum aimed at encouraging the study of Chinese language and culture.

College of Foreign Languages & Literature

- CFLL provides students with rigorous training in 16 foreign languages, literatures, and cultures.
- Endeavoring to integrate theory with practice, CFLL encourages students to learn languages and combine their technical expertise with language proficiency for cross-cultural activities and learning.

College of Law

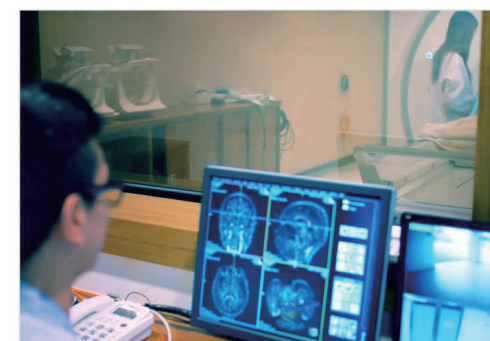

- The first independent law school of all national universities in Taiwan.
- Offers one undergraduate program, one executive master's program, and eight specialized research centers (Centers in Public Law, Civil Law, Criminal Law, Economic & Financial Law, Labor & Social Law, China Law Studies, Fundamental Jurisprudence, and Interdisciplinary Studies)—the College of Law is now the largest and most influential law school in Taiwan.

College of Commerce

- Students and alumni from 60+ countries and 5 continents.
- Students can receive dual degrees in 2 years from 2 countries or choose from 140+ countries for academic exchange.
- Faculty comprises senior executives of multinational corporations and overseas professors.
- Taiwan's premier English MBA dually accredited by The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) and European Quality Improvement System (EQUIS)

College of Science

- Founded in 1994 from the former College of Arts and Sciences.
- Provides the following university-level research centers and programs: the Research Center for Mind, Brain and Learning, Master Program in Digital Content and Technologies, Patents Course Program, MA Program in Counseling and Guidance, Bachelor's Program in Digital Content and Technologies, and the Financial Mathematics Program. In 2020, Bachelor Program in Electrophysics will be established.

International College of Innovation

- The International College of Innovation is the first international program in Taiwan to learn through a problem-oriented, interdisciplinary curriculum that builds upon the fields of Globalization & Democratic Governance, Asian Society & Sustainable Development, and Innovation Management and Data Science.
- ICI aims to equip the students with global visions and creative solution skills to tackle the complicated global public affairs, and prepare students for their success in global leadership.

College of Communication

- The Master's Program in Digital Content and Technologies is a joint collaboration between the College of Communication and Department of Computer Science. Its aim is to cultivate future industry leaders who possess expertise in digital media, design, user experience, and smart environments.
- Works with media and corporate partners to provide experiential learning opportunities that help students enhance their employability.

College of Social Sciences

- Established in 1927, the College of Social Sciences integrates experts from 10 departments, 3 international master's programs, and 10 research centers to train talent that can serve the country, conduct frontier research, and provide professional consulting services for the public.
- With nearly 70% of faculty members having graduated from renowned universities across Europe and the US, the CSS encourages students to participate in over 50 English-taught courses, international exchange, and community service programs for a holistic academic experience.

College of Education

- Founded in 1954, the College of Education is the first educational institute to be established in Taiwan.
- Offers a multitude of courses focusing on secondary education, education administration and student affairs, educational research and leadership, and multicultural education.
- Besides regular programs, we also established one and the only national center, funded by the Ministry of Education, Taiwan Experimental Educational Center (TEEC) in 2015 and is extending its influence on innovative schooling and pedagogy.

College of International Affairs

- Established in 2000, the College of International Affairs fosters an academic environment that centers on the dialogue among globalization, international relations, and sustainable development.
- Renowned for its Department of Diplomacy, the College is dedicated to the training of future leaders excelling in all fields of international and cross-strait affairs.

College of Informatics

- As a result of the strong scientific research of the thirty-year-old Department of Computer Science, the newly established College of Informatics (est. 2021) represents the strong ambition of National Chengchi University to further integrate recent innovations in science and technology with its strong background in the social sciences and humanities field.
- Objectives of the College include, but are not limited to: research and application. Likewise, the College aims to understand further societal influences and impacts ensuing from advanced technologies, including artificial intelligence (e.g., machine learning), information security, efficient communication alternatives (e.g., 5G), and the internet of things (IOT).

International Summer School / Customized Programs

For Students

International Summer School

Since 2009, National Chengchi University International Summer School (NCCU ISS) was established upon the belief that boundaries and semester/year should not be factors that limit the chance of learning. During summer break (July-August), NCCU ISS provides a 4-week Mandarin language study course and intensive English-taught academic courses. Applicants can also enjoy more vibrant and in-depth cultural experiences through various forms of field trips and excursions.

Official Website

For Partners

Customized Programs

NCCU's Customized Programs are flexible options for partners who are interested in a tailor-made short-term program for their students. Its aim is to continue to provide cross-cultural, extraordinary experiences even outside the scope of our pre-planned programs. The program length can range from two weeks to a couple of months.

- The package contents can be negotiated with the commissioning institute.

Contact for Customized Programs

Targeted Fields

Communication, Social Science and History, Mandarin Language or any other academic fields suggested by partner universities.

Modules of Cooperation

Option A

NCCU prepares the course curriculum, language classes, and excursions around Taiwan for the partner universities.

Option B

The partner university prepares the course curriculum and instructors/teachers, while NCCU supplies the classrooms, additional language classes, and excursions around Taiwan.

Learning Chinese at NCCU

Offered by Chinese Learning Center

- The Chinese Language Center (CLC), established more than twenty years ago, is nationally acclaimed for its teaching quality as well as excellent facilities and instructional aids.
- The CLC maintains a teacher-to-student ratio of 1:8 to ensure that individual attention is received while learning the language.

Taiwan

An Asian Miracle

Best Country for Travel and Living

CNN Travel rated Taiwan as one of the best countries for travel and living.

Global Base of High-Tech and Industry

Taiwan houses more than 20 science parks and produces an annual output of 3 trillion NTD.

Best Countries for Business

Forbes ranked Taiwan #12 in 2019

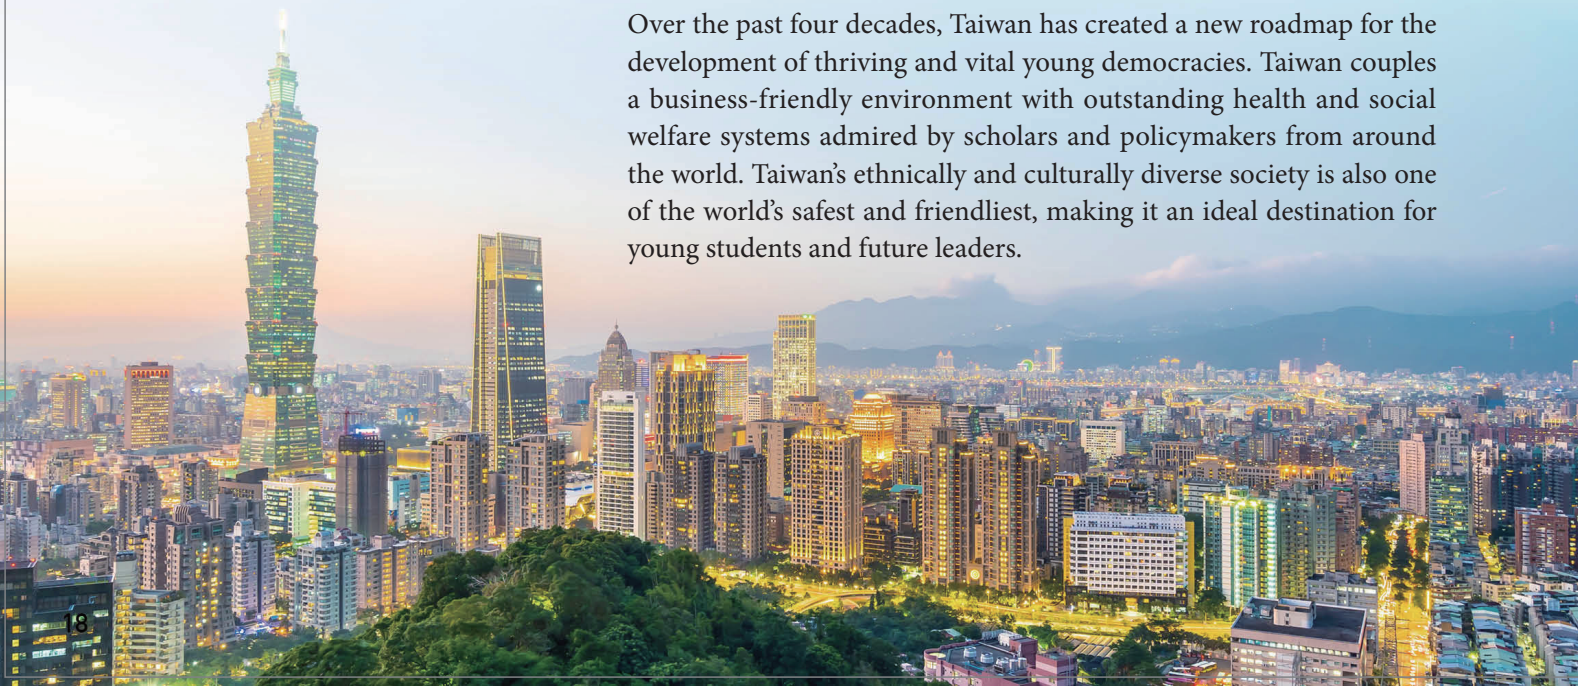

Best Healthcare Systems

CEO World Magazine ranked Taiwan #1 in 2019

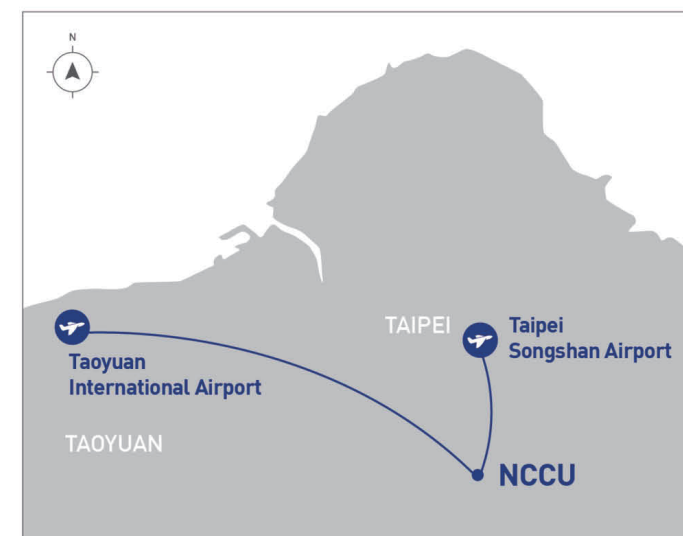

Taiwan is world-renowned as an economic miracle and the most vibrant democracy in Asia, but it's so much more as well: a thriving hub of diverse cultural traditions, a laboratory creating innovative technologies, home to some of the world's best and most varied cuisine, and a land of breathtakingly beautiful vistas. Taiwan is your perfect stepping stone to all of Asia.

Over the past four decades, Taiwan has created a new roadmap for the development of thriving and vital young democracies. Taiwan couples a business-friendly environment with outstanding health and social welfare systems admired by scholars and policymakers from around the world. Taiwan's ethnically and culturally diverse society is also one of the world's safest and friendliest, making it an ideal destination for young students and future leaders.

Fees

Dining

Diverse dining choices, ranging from the exotic to the local

At NCCU, with the many dining options both on and off campus, it's nearly impossible for students to have an empty stomach. Within one minute of walking from the main gate, there are more than 50 restaurants, food stands, and beverage shops. The nearby supermarket also has meat, vegetables, ingredients, and other goods for those students who like to cook for themselves.

Vegetarians, vegans or students with special dietary requirements also have great options for dining: a number of restaurants in Muzha district are capable of offering customized dishes based on your needs.

Students Support

Additional exclusive services for international students

There are 3 voluntary groups at NCCU taking care of the international students, including:

- Campus Caring Group (CCG)
Campus Caring Group is a group of spouses of current faculty and retirees that provide students with free one-on-one Mandarin language study and support.
- Buddy for exchange students
All exchange students will have 1 to 2 local buddies assigned to them to provide assistance, such as airport pick-up, life support, and more.
- International Association (IA)
International Association is a student club consisting of both international and local students. Each semester, IA will conduct several cultural activities and voluntary services for students for cultural exchange and service purposes.

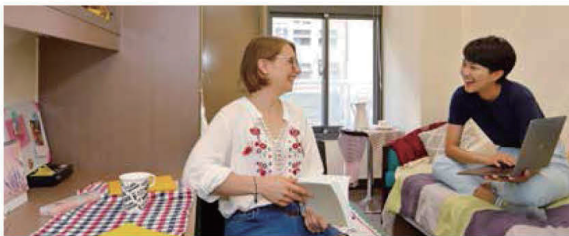

Life at NCCU

Housing

Safe & clean on-campus accommodations with great amenities

There are 3 main dormitory areas at NCCU. Two are located on-campus, while NCCU-iHouse (dormitory for international exchange students) is located off-campus, 5-min away from the NCCU main campus by foot. Room types range from single to 4-person room, depending on the availability of each dormitory. Dorm fees fall between USD300-USD1100 per semester. All dormitories are separated by gender, and residents are required to follow access control during certain periods to ensure their safety. Smoking and cooking are both prohibited in all NCCU dormitories. However, the use of microwaves and ovens are allowed in public areas.

Sports Facilities

Equipped with international-standard professional facilities & courts

The campus is well-outfitted with a variety of sports facilities, including track fields, ball courts, swimming pool, fitness rooms, and more. Most facilities are free to use, but require pre-preservation. NCCU students can apply for passes to the tennis court/swimming pool/fitness room at student discount prices for monthly/quarterly/yearly services.

Religion-friendly campus

NCCU strives to provide an inclusive environment where its students can feel at home. From Muslim prayer rooms inside campus to temples and churches nearby, students from different religious backgrounds will find it easy to adapt to life here.

Libraries

Offering a wide range of printed and online study resources

As a top university in Taiwan, NCCU libraries place a significant value on providing resources for the study of special and professional knowledge. NCCU students have easy access to over 1,880,000 printed publications and numerous multi-media and online resources in NCCU libraries. In addition, the libraries are multi-functional, offering spaces for group discussion, research, lectures, co-working, or VR experiences. The 24/7 study room at the Main Library is one of the most popular spots for the hardest-working students.

Students/Alumni Testimonials

The school itself is also very diverse, in fact, it is the most diverse in Taiwan.

Department of Business Administration

Irene Wijaya

NCCU is the only school in Taiwan to be dual accredited in both EQUIS and AACSB and has crucial connections with the world's top corporations—that means it can offer students first-hand, practical experience and learning opportunities, such as internship programs and company visits. Not only that, at NCCU, I have more opportunities to interact with students and scholars from different parts of the world. It is the perfect place to develop the global mindset that is so in demand in today's world.

IMBA Program

Chris Cottorone

Top ranked program is the No.1 leading International MBA program in Taiwan.

It is also the premier academic institution of Taiwan that blends the traditions of the Greater China and Asia regions with the rest of the world, and is an international gathering place of both talent and learning.

I seriously admire the prominent role that NCCU graduates play in Taiwan's business community.

NCCU's Chinese Literature Department provides an opportunity for academic development that is hard to come by in any other university.

Chinese Literature Department

Olech Marian Piotr

NCCU's Chinese Literature Department offers courses taught by the world's leading experts in the field. There are far more frequent and more extensive academic events related to Chinese studies here, not to mention the immense corpus of Chinese studies in its library collections and databases.

IDAS Program

Patrick Bugarin

I am fortunate to have been taught by remarkable educators who are respected in their fields of research. Besides, NCCU has a huge population of international students, which means you have plenty of opportunities to interact with people from a diverse cultural background, learn from them, and expand your understanding of the world not only by theory but also by reality. For challenge-seeking students who want a healthy life-school balance, NCCU is waiting for you.

NCCU is the top choice for anyone interested in politics and international affairs.
